World Cerebral palsy day : - 6th October

CP :- It is a non progressive brain injury characterized by movement and posture disorder.

Prevalence of CP in India is estimated around 3 cases per 1000 live births.

To treat such a child is a privilege but it cannot be done by a single specialty. Hence all specialties have to come together and follow a MULTIDISCIPLINARY approach for better future of a child.

CAUSES :- There are prenatal and postnatal causes, commonest being the lack of oxygen to brain of a child also known as hypoxic ischaemic encephalopathy.

TREATMENT APPROACHES

PEDIATRICIAN

- First contact to diagnose a child with cerebral palsy.
- Prescribes the initial pharmacological management.
- Refers to a Physiotherapist

PHYSIOTHERAPIST

- Key member for rehabilitation.
- Ensues independence based on capabilities.
- Improves postural control and movement.
- Prevents secondary complications.
- Co-ordinates with all other specialties
- Improves quality of life of a child.

OTHERS

- Orthopedic : helps in surgical management if required.
- Psychologist : to counsel the family members
- Social worker : helps parents identify community assistance programmes.

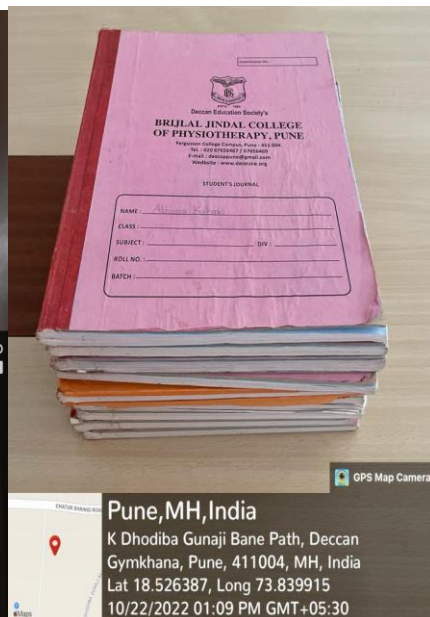

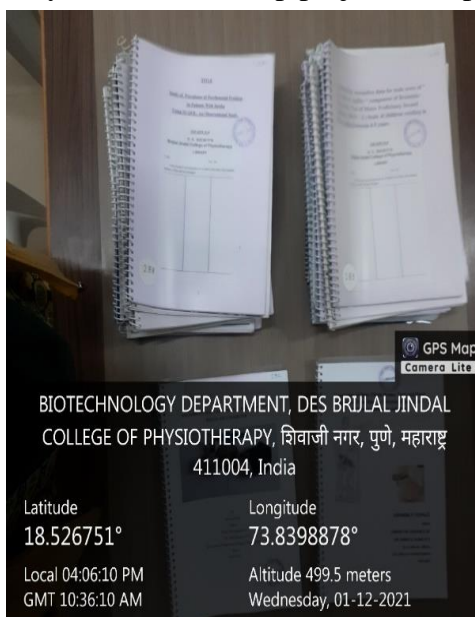

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPIST

- improves function of hand and upper extremity through playful and purposeful activities.

SPEECH LANGUAGE THERAPIST

- Helps to improve:
Swallowing and feeding.
Voice and resonance.
